

ManTech Center for Technology

Reengineering Innovation

ManTech Center for Technology (C4T) is a modern facility that provides a place for industry, academia and government to collaborate. Located in Stafford, Virginia, the facility provides several key components that offer customers access to the most current and advanced technology.

Research and Development

Existing efforts include human touch interfaces, geospatial imagery, immersive video and mobile applications – all of which fill existing technology gaps in the DoD and government arenas.

Network Operations

The C4T's network operations center provides mission critical operations and business continuity services to the supported environment. This means quality support for network users and continuous operation of servers and hosted services.

Technical Collaboration

Technical collaboration involves bringing together state-of-the-art technology and collaboration spaces. This combination nurtures innovative ideas and provides a forum to use cutting-edge technology to solve challenging problems.

Academia

Our partnerships with universities build collaborative efforts that deliver tangible value. Students get the opportunity to work side-by-side with industry leaders, and industry can take advantage of a pipeline of new, talented individuals with innovative ideas.

C4T Events

The C4T also hosts, sponsors and participates in events geared towards students, partners and industry personnel. Events that take place at our facility enable industry, academia and government communities an opportunity to demonstrate their unique capabilities. Our spacious conference rooms, with seating for up to 120 people, are easily accessible and feature the latest in conferencing technology. High-tech audio/visual and video teleconferencing capabilities transform a traditional meeting into the ultimate collaboration or training event.
